Dear Madam:

I can tell you nothing about your 1894 dime, S mint, from your description. In order to be rare, it should have a very small S under the wreath on the reverse. If it has not this letter it is worth no more than any other dime of that date. Please let me know about this.

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Sir
I have just recd your letter stating that you could not tell me
anything about the dime
From my discription will describe it it is an 1894 Dime with the small S. Under the Wreath on the reverse side I also have a 2 Cent Piece and some ½ dimes & old coins.
let me hear at once

Dear Madam:

You apparently have the 1894 'S' dime and presumably desire to sell it, but we do not care to make an offer for it without seeing it. We would have to pass on its genuineness, and also its price is governed a good deal by the condition of the piece.

Your two-cent piece has no value, and it is doubtful if your half-dimes are worth more than face or a cent or so more than five cents each.

We would be pleased to have you send the 1894 dime on to us and we will then make you an offer for it.

Very truly yours,

Curator

Mrs. Ellis Nesmith,
Boston, Ga.

Dear Madam:

Your letter enclosing the dime is received today, and I am herewith returning it. We have put this piece under a high-power glass and the date reads 1904 instead of 1894, and in consequence the dime has no premium. I am very sorry to inform you of this, and I trust you will not be too disappointed.

Very truly yours,

Curator
